Aurelio's has defined pizza in the Chicago area for over 50 years. Its long traditions of family, quality products and community commitment have always been the key ingredients to its success and its growth into over 40 locations in six states.

It's not only about pizza, but also great pasta and sandwiches at affordable prices with dependable and courteous service.

If you have never been to any of Aurelio's many locations, it's about time you joined the generations of families who keep returning to this popular establishment for its family recipes and quality ingredients. The Aurelio's family also prides itself on customizing orders to suit your individual tastes.

What's all the fuss about? Let's start with the pizza. It's available in five sizes, from a six-incher to an 18-inch "fiesta" and can be topped with any combination of 20 ingredients (including roasted red peppers, hot giardiniera, fresh garlic, pineapple, anchovy, spinach, chicken or Italian beef) and three sauces (marinara, barbecue or alfredo). With thin, thick or stuffed crusts, the pizza possibilities are endless.

There's also a very tempting line of "speciality pizzas" such as the "Super Six" with sausage, cheese, green pepper, ham, pepperoni and mushrooms, a

Hawaiian with ham and pineapple and a taco pizza with seasoned ground beef, black olives, mild Ortega peppers, tomatoes and lettuce.

Start your Aurelio's experience with some toasted ravioli, bosco sticks, hot wings, cheese sticks or garlic, tomato or pizza bread.

Enjoy one of its salads as a meal or appetizer such as the Italian antipasto salad, full of ham, mozzarella, pepperoni, olives and sweet red peppers or the chicken field greens salad with diced grilled chicken, roasted red peppers, bacon and bleu cheese.

Pasta entrees feature homemade sauces served on ravioli, jumbo tortellini, spinach manicotti, spaghetti, mostaccioli and fettuccini.

Aurelio's also offers a tasty chicken parmesan or chicken alfredo served over your choice of pasta.

Diners should check out the sandwich fare, too, where they will discover the beef sandwiches with which Joe Aurelio launched his business. There's homemade Italian sausage, meatballs, an Italian sub, and a combo.

You will find Aurelio restaurants in Homewood, Beecher, Crete, Frankfort, Mokena, Lockport, Lemont, and Tinley Park, with carry-outs in many more suburban locations.
